Wood panel styling – In a lastingly beautiful tradition.

Crafted in first class tradition

Colonial doors provide the authentic styling and rich appearance that have made quality wood doors so popular for years. Our construction methods provide strength and durability. They include:

- 1 Individual door sections a full 1-3/8" thick.
- 2 Panel frames (rails and stiles) are made from high quality, kiln-dried West Coast hemlock, sitka spruce or equal.
- 3 Center panels are durable, 1/4" exterior-grade hardboard.
- 4 Mortise and tenon joints are glued and steel-pinned for lasting strength.
- 5 Shiplap style connections between sections provide a weathertight fit, and smooth operation. Tracks and hardware are rust-resistant, hot-dipped galvanized steel.

Good styling endures, and so does quality construction. Both make the Colonial door a prudent investment for your home. Colonial doors are made from high-quality, kiln-dried Western woods in sizes and styles to complement a range of architectural designs. Your choice of a Colonial wood panel door will keep rewarding you year after year.
